

SCIENCE IN ACTION

In Science, we conducted an experiment with eggs and different drinks. We left the eggs in water, vinegar, coke and orange juice. The egg shell is similar to our teeth. The coca-cola made the shell brown and the juice made the shell weaker and flaky!

Did you know... there's more sugar in orange juice than in full sugar coke?!

